Introduction

Podcasting has proven to be an engaging and powerful medium for storytelling and conversations, as well as news and entertainment. Listening continues to rise, as does the selection of content and the different ways we can listen to it. Triton Digital is introducing a year-end podcast report, providing insights into the evolving United States podcast landscape to accompany our monthly ranker reports at www.TritonRankers.com.

This report will cover trends in podcast listening and the devices and players that listeners use. It will cover the demographics and characteristics of podcast listeners overall and for specific genres and programs. For participants in Triton’s U.S. Podcast Ranker, this report will also unveil the top 20 most downloaded podcasts and podcast networks for the entirety of 2022, and the top podcast debuts.

The report incorporates data from multiple sources, including Triton Digital’s IAB Tech Lab certified Podcast Metrics service, which measures server log data from Triton’s Omny Studio platform and a variety of other industry hosting platforms. It also includes data from Triton’s Podcast Metrics Demos+ solution, which provides demographics and audience characteristics for podcasts of all sizes, as well as the Demos+ survey of 12,000 monthly podcast listeners in the U.S., done in collaboration with Signal Hill Insights.

As we enter 2023, we look forward to expanding upon these insights based on input and collaboration with all of you.

While the News genre generates less downloads per episode on average, it provides scale by publishing episodes on a more frequent basis, often daily. In contrast, True Crime has more downloads per episode on average, but often publishes episodes only once a week or less.

Back catalog consumption presents an opportunity for programmatic advertising with enhanced targeting

For older / evergreen podcast episodes, networks are able to swap out previous ads for new ones and have an opportunity to sell these ads programmatically.

True Crime & Comedy categories are the largest genres with high consumption of back catalog episodes.

More granular targeting is made feasible by targeting across program episodes.
